Spring is here, and with spring comes warmer weather, longer days, and baby animals.

How many baby animals can you name? Most are familiar with names like fawn and cub, but what about a baby bat? Or how about a platypus?

And remember, if you do find what appears to be an abandoned baby animal, it’s best to leave it where you find it. Its mom is probably out feeding or watching closely from a distance. Mother knows best!

Let’s see how many baby names you can match up!
Match the mother to the name of its baby.
