4.0 PRESENTATIONS

4.1 Results of County-Wide Resident Survey for McHenry County Conservation District - Presented by aQity Research & Insights of Evanston, IL

President Scacci introduced Jeff Andreasen of aQity Research & Insights. Mr. Andreasen first reviewed the methodology used. He reported there was an overwhelming response to the survey with 660 respondents via online, printed survey or from speaking with interviewers. He confirmed through the demographics of respondents that the sample was representative of the County residents and that all are weighted to county census records.

There were no questions on the methodology.

Mr. Andreasen then reviewed the results. He noted that property taxes were the top concern of residents and the District received high ratings on the respondents’ familiarity with the agency which held across all segments of the community. He noted that the District got an above average value rating (6.9 out of 10) with no low value ratings which was higher than Lake County Forest Preserve’s rating of 6.6.

The presentation continued with ratings for distribution of use, safety, maintenance of sites, preservation of habitat, protecting of wetlands and woodlands, and financial stability. Site maintenance was the most favorable priority with cultural preservation ranked the lowest. Safety ranked the highest on satisfaction. When asked about the awareness of the bond retirement in 2025, only 12% of respondents were aware, and only 18% knew about the District not taking full levies over several years. The majority were not in support of special fees for parking, special use areas, etc. Awareness of the Foundation was also about 17%. There were several open ended questions with results included in the presentation.
4.2 Government Finance Officers Association (GFOA) - Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting (CAFR) for Fiscal Year 2019 (April 1, 2018 to March 31, 2019)

10.3 Update on COVID-19 Pandemic Preparedness and Response Plan-Continuity in Business Functions and Operations

Executive Director Kessler reported that there has been good communication within the staff and a lot of activities had been put on hold as the District continues to move forward. At this time, the team is looking at plans for what the next phases of reopening will look like when the Stay in Place is lifted and we are assuming it will be sometime after May 1st. It will probably start with smaller groups of less than ten people with continued social distancing and will most likely hold at that stage through the balance of the year. Day Camps would be a problem with those limitations and will most likely be cancelled. The group is still working on modifications for camping and shelter reservations.

Vice President Brandt and Secretary Campbell complimented staff on the good job and noted how well out in front the District was when it came time for action.
